

Navistar, Inc.
4201 Winfield Road
Warrenville, IL 60555 USA

Anita M. Holloway, MD, MBA
Manager, Health Strategy & Clinical Programs

P : (312) 836-3927
W : www.navistar.com

Dr. Anita Holloway is the Manager of Health Strategy and Clinical programs at Navistar, Inc. Her responsibilities include the management and administration of Navistar's chronic disease, travel health, occupational medical services and executive medical programs. As member of an integrated Health, Safety, Security, and Productivity corporate business unit, she provides program design and development through worldwide corporate policy & guidance, technical assistance such as health and safety audits, and consulting for global occupational medical services.

For more than 60,000 employees, retirees, and families worldwide, Navistar's health and productivity strategy focuses on aligning health issues, business strategies, and performance metrics to promote finding the right balance of programs to improve employee productivity and company viability in the marketplace.

Dr. Holloway earned her medical degree from Jefferson Medical College, completed her residency at Johns Hopkins University where she also earned a Masters of Business Administration. Throughout her fifteen year career, she has practiced medicine in the private practice, academic, and employer based occupational health settings.